Risk and reward profile

What does this synthetic indicator mean?

- The calculation of the risk indicator is based on historical data which may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the sub-fund.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged. The sub-fund's risk indicator may shift over time.
- The lowest category of the risk indicator does not mean a risk-free investment.
- The shares of class B EUR are classified in category 6 because the value of the share may be subject to high variations and consequently the risk of loss and the opportunity of gain may be high.

What are the most significant risks not included in this indicator?

- Emerging market risk: The fund invests in developing overseas markets which carry a higher risk than investing in larger established markets. Investments in emerging markets are likely to experience greater rises and falls in value and may suffer trading problems. A fund which invests in emerging markets rather than more developed countries may encounter difficulties when buying and selling investments. Emerging markets are also more likely to experience political uncertainty and investments held in these countries may not have the same protection as those held in more developed countries.

- Currency risk: The fund invests in overseas markets. It can be affected by changes in exchange rates which may cause the value of your investment to decrease or increase.
- Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell. This can reduce the fund's returns because the fund may be unable to transact at advantageous times or prices.
- Counterparty risk: As the fund uses over-the-counter derivatives, there is a risk that the counterparty to the transactions will wholly or partially fail to honor its contractual obligations. This may result in a financial loss to the fund.
